Were the changes in the Roman Catholic Church during the time of the Council of Trent solely the result of the Protestant Reformation? That is the question that Fr. Robert Bireley poses in his book, "The Refashioning of Catholicism, 1450-1700: A Reassessment of the Counter Reformation", (The Catholic University of America Press, Washington, DC; 1999).

~~The Refashioning of Catholicism, 1450 1700 by Robert Bireley~~

Unlike the traditional terms Counter-Reformation or Catholic Reform, this book does not see Catholicism from 1450 to 1700 primarily in relationship to the Protestant Reformation but as both shaped by the revolutionary changes of the early modern period and actively refashioning itself in response to these changes: the emergence of the early modern state; economic growth and social dislocation; the expansion of Europe across the seas; the Renaissance; and, to be sure, the Protestant Reformation.

The Catholic heretical movement called Jansenism tried to out-purify Calvinism, but in stead called forth the so-called enlightenment, which is the foundation for today's secularism, which all Christian denominations have to struggle against. Overall, I heartily recommend "The Refashioning of Catholicism, 1450-1700."
